Park dist. sells bonds to buy 35-acre ground

LEMONT - More than a year's work was culminated Thursday night with the signing of $140,000 worth of bonds by the Lemont Township Park District.

Money from the sale of the bonds, sold to the La Salle National Bank at 6.75 per cent interest, will be used to purchase 35 acres on 127th Street for a park. The property, to be purchased from the First National Bank of Joliet as trustees, will cost the park district $105,000. The remainder of the money will be used for developing and improvements.

The bid from the LaSalle Bank specified the total interest cost after granting a small premium to the district as $62,641 to be paid over the 10-year life of the bonds. Twenty-eight bonds were sold at $5,000 each.

The park district financial consultant, Attorney Morton Lang, told the commission that, on a conservative estimate of the district's assessed valuation for next year, the first year's interest could be paid for at less than a six cent tax per $100 valuation. The six cent levy would represent a cost of about $3 for the average home.

After this year, Lang said, the amount of the levy will go down because of future increases in valuation.

The park district, under state law, can sell bonds amounting to one-half of one percent of its assessed valuation without a referendum election. The Lemont Township Park District has no other outstanding bonds.

The actual sale of the bonds cannot transpire until after a review by the firm of Chapman and Cutler, recognized bonding authorities in Chicago. Lang said he expected no complications, however.

The LaSalle National Bank was the only bidder on the bonds.

Scariano complaint

LOCKPORT - "I am putting the finishing touches on a complaint and we will file within the next ten days," Anthony Scariano told the Southwest Graphic Friday.

Scariano has been retained by Harold C. Scholle, the superintendent of Lockport's High Schools until his dismissal by the board effective June 30, 1970.

Scholle maintains he has a two-year contract with the board of education, with one more year to go. He reported for work at the district office on Wednesday, July 1 and was told by John Cirricione, the school's attorney, that the board had not changed its positions regarding his release.

Melvin Smith resigns: Higgins is appointed acting 205 superintendent

By MARGE RATCLIFFE

LOCKPORT -- Dr. Melvin Smith, assistant superintendent of the District 205 High Schools, submitted his resignation to the board July 9.

Dr. Smith had been offered the post of superintendent but said, "After much deliberation, I find I must decline the offer and terminate my employment in the district."

Smith came to the district several years ago as an assistant to Dr. William Blatnik. He was away from the district in the 68-69 school year, to complete work on his doctorate, which he received from Indiana University.

During Smith's absence, the board appointed Harold C. Scholle assistant superintendent. When Dr. Blatnik resigned in April of 1969, Scholle was appointed superintendent. Scholle recently was fired by the board, effective June 30, 1970. The reasons for his dismissal were not made public.

"Dr. Smith has been leading us down the path toward solving many of our problems," said the board president, William Brill. "The community will miss this kind of leadership. We are looking for people to fit the bill. There are 11 applicants for the job, (of superintendent) and we have interviewed one and will interview two more next Wednesday. (July 15)

"I think Dr. Smith has made the right decision," Brill continued. "He says he knows he's made the right decision." Brill concluded that Smith's helpful comments would result in an ultimate gain for the district.

Board member Felix Borio said the board would accept Smith's resignation with regret. "We'll really miss him, he's been here a long time."

Smith, his wife, Beverly, and their family will move to Rochelle, Illinois, where he has accepted the post of superintendent of Rochelle High School.

The board appointed Eugene Higgins as assistant superintendent of the district to replace Smith and Martin Hankin principal of Lockport East High School to replace Allen McCowan, who is on leave of absence from the district.

Last year, Higgins served as director of pupil personnel in the district. The job was recently discontinued as part of the board's economy measures to help the financially troubled district. Higgins was also appointed acting superintendent, "to provide district leadership until such time as the district hires a superintendent." Higgins is not one of the 11 candidates for the post of superintendent.

Hankin was assistant principal at Lockport West High School prior to his new assignment.

In other business, the board discussed the proposed split of the district with attorney John Cirricione. He told the board that if the decision is appealed and the appeal taken, it could be in court for as long as two years.

Board member Mrs. Joan Straka stated the board will be out of money at the end of July, and if the County Board's decision to allow the district to split is appealed, the district will not be able to sell tax warrants and thus will not be able to meet bills and payroll.

Cirricione said the board would have to hold the bills and issue vouchers for the payroll. He said July 28 is the last day for an appeal, and that until that time, there is nothing further the board can do. If there is no appeal, Boyd R. Bucher, county superintendent of schools, will call for a special election of school board members for the newly created district and lay down a for-

Arsonists burn five cars

BEACONRIDGE - At least five automobiles owned by residents of Beaconridge have been burned by arsonists, Sgt. Ray Waliczek of the Will County Police Dept. said.

Four cars were burned around midnight Wednesday and another was burned sometime after 10:30 p.m. Thursday.

Autos burned Wednesday were a 1963 Chevrolet owned by William Stob, 410 Standish; a 1968 Pontiac owned by John Armstrong, 158 Beaconridge; a 1966 Chevrolet and a 1962 Falcon owned by Maurio Pignato, 415 Colony court.

The fifth car burned Thursday night is a 1964 Pontiac station wagon owned by Lloyd Peckman, 425 Mallview. The damage was discovered Friday morning by Peckman.

See editorial on page 6

Waliczek said the fires have all been set by lighted rags thrown into the automobiles. An investigation is being made to apprehend the arsonist.

Residents protest vacation of Hopkins Road for runway

LOCKPORT — The proposed vacation of Hopkins Road, for the extension of a runway at Lewis College, was a topic of considerable discussion at a July 6 meeting of the Lockport City Council.

At the last council meeting several aldermen suggested all involved parties appear at the July 6 meeting to discuss differences. William Wenger, attorney for Joe Brassel, a land owner who opposes the runway extension, said Hopkins Road is valuable to the people in the area who use it continuously for transportation.

Ken Garland, also a land owner said he and his mother-in-law must use the road, which provides the only feasible route between two parcels of land they own.

Don Randich, Lockport Township Highway Commissioner, said the council should obtain a written commitment from the College as to when the runway extension will be built before action is taken to vacate Hopkins Road. He added the road should be used until the time airport additions are made.

Mayor George Nordstrom favors the vacation, and stated he would like to see the college expand. Dr. J.L. Ferrington, vice president of business affairs at Lewis explained the reasons for expansion included a proposed $1 million aviation school built at the airport which he felt would benefit the entire community. No action was taken. Dr. Ferrington will submit a request to the council, at its next meeting, July 20.

The council honored Richard Eberhardt's request to annex 60 acres of land he owns into the city. Eberhardt, president of the Eberhardt Construction Company in Orland Park, owns a 100-acre tract on the south side of Division Street, east of the Knights of Columbus Hall. Forty acres already were within the city limits. Eberhardt wants to build a mobile home development but the property would first have to be rezoned. It is currently zoned for one-family dwellings. The annexation of the property does not alter the zoning.

The council heard a letter from Anton Matesi, president of the Civic and Commerce Association, expressing his organization's opposition to the establishment of any new mobile home park within the City limits of Lockport or on land under its control nearby. Matesi said mobile home parks impose adequate taxes to defray their approximate cost to the municipality involved.

The council also voted to increase the number of liquor licenses in the city from 17 to 18, and will issue a license to Don McGraw, who has appeared before the council on several occasions with a request for an additional license. McGraw plans to build a restaurant and lounge on the south side of 9th street, between State and Hamilton. The new liquor ordinance was passed by a 4-3 vote, with aldermen Swen Nelson, Len Strahanoski, and George Wolfe casting "no" votes.

In other business, the council approved a Lions Club request to park a trailer in front of the old bank building on August 14. The Lions will provide free testing for glaucoma, an eye disease which often results in blindness.

- Approved the placement of a stop sign at the corner of 11th and Lincoln streets, after a motion by Alderman John Kinsella. Kinsella offered the motion, "despite the opposition of Gordon McCluskey". The public works director.

At a previous meeting, a group of citizens appeared before the council to request a stop sign, in the interest of safety. At the time, McCluskey said if stop signs were erected at "every corner," it would take "an hour and a half" to get across town. Lincoln Street is frequently used as a means of getting from Division to Ninth Street.

- Eugene Korst, the city attorney, reported on the status of the new parking tickets.

- The Council voted to extend an invitation to Harold Marquardt, the owner of the Lockport Body Shop on 11th Street, which has been under discussion at several meetings, to attend the next session of the council. The council has received several complaints from the shop's customers, regarding damaged cars parked on 11th Street while they await repairs, and are in the meantime ticketed.

The 1963 Chevrolet in the foreground was completely damaged by a fire set Wednesday night by arsonists. The car belongs to Mr. William

Police arrest Mokena man

MOKENA — Hassen F. Wagner, 28, of 10825 First St., was arrested July 2 and released on $1,000 bond on a charge of unlawful use of firearms.

Police say Wagner was found sitting on the back porch of his home holding a .22 calibre automatic pistol after several residents had reported shots in the area. There were bullet marks on a nearby brick home.

Wagner is scheduled to appear July 16 in Magistrate Court.

BIRTHS

LEMONT — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pace, Lemont, are the parents of a daughter born July 2 at Silver Cross Hospital. The baby, Kristalynn, weighed 6 pounds, 9 ounces.

Frankfort to fix sewers with assistance of TV

FRANKFORT — There are believed to be snags, cracks and holes in some of the sewer lines and the village is planning a look-see into the situation at an estimated cost of $3-4,000.

The village board has approved the hiring of a firm that specializes in sewer repairs with the help of closed-circuit television and special machinery.

The principal line involved runs through Lincoln Meadows north to U.S. 30, under the highway and on through Connecticut Hills to the treatment plant. Trustee Wilbert Klier, head of the sewer and water committee and acting mayor last week in the absence of Mayor Glenn Warning, recommended retention of the sewer specialists.

The village also is conducting smoke tests of the sewer system to pinpoint leaks and bad connections. Smoke emerging from gutter openings along the roof indicates a house where the roof water is running into the sanitary sewer main, a violation of state and village law.

If smoke comes into the basement and house one knows his lines are not properly trapped.

To conduct the test, sewer openings into a manhole are closed with sandbags while smoke is pumped into the mains from another manhole. The smoke is injected under pressure and will escape through any openings, coming up through the ground at points where there are breaks in sewer tile.

L. W. Patterson, real estate dealer, appeared before the board to ascertain if Frankfort would treat sewage from a possible development at St. Francis Woods Road and U.S. 45. The Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart, who have a convent and high school on St. Francis Woods Rd. made arrangements with the village several years ago to have their sewage treated.

The Sisters installed a pressure main from their property to Colorado Avenue along U.S. 45, and the sewage is carried along Colorado to the treatment plant by gravity flow.

The Sisters paid for the force main and the lift station near the intersection of U.S. 45 and St. Francis Woods Rd. and also paid half of the cost of the polishing pond the state had been ordering Frankfort to build.

The village has control of the line along U.S. 45 but the Sisters have full control over the line from their property to the lift station. They also have an agreement with the village to serve a population of 800 full time residents.

Fawell to speak at GOP picnic

SOUTHWEST — State Senator Harris W. Fawell (R-40th, Naperville) will be the featured speaker at the annual Will County Republican Central Committee picnic July 18 at St. Joseph's Park, Joliet.

Fawell, chairman of the Senate Public Welfare committee and vice chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, represents the Will County townships of DuPage, Lockport, Wheatland and Plainfield.

Picnic chairman Earl Cantone said tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children and may be purchased from any Republican precinct committeeman, committeewoman, supervisor or officeholder, or at the headquarters office in Joliet.

State Senator Meade Baltz (R-41st, Joliet) will introduce Fawell. The picnic will last from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m.

Gene Kromryk, Lemont Dist. Fire Dept lieutenant, kneels beside a $27,000 Ford truck recently acquired by the department. The new truck, which replaces a 1953 Ford, is similar to the 1969 model Ford at the Bolingbrook Dist. office. Kromryk says the new truck will pump 1,000 gallons of water a minute and has a 750-gallon water tank. (GRAPHIC photo) mula for distributing the assets and liabilities.

The board also heard a report on the current status with the North Central Association. The board requested a task force from the association after they were informed the NCA had placed the district on an "accredited-warning" status. They also requested a public meeting.

Thursday Brill said Dr. Lowell Fisher, chairman of the organization, had been contacted directly and had refused the board's invitation, "on the premise that we have demanded an open meeting."

Brill stated the board will continue to operate in a "glass house." Other board members also objected. Stanley Chapas chided the organization saying, "they did not consult us ahead of time that we would be placed on warning." Member Jerry Harlan said he felt the board made it very clear that help was needed.

Smith, who had spoken with Dr. Fisher, said Fisher felt a "public display would benefit no one," and that a private meeting with the board would be more advantageous to all concerned.

Harlan said he didn't feel the board should expect North Central to come in cold and face a courtroom situation. He did feel the board had requested an open meeting so that the public could hear the reasons the school had been placed on a warned status.

Smith said the basis for the district's standing was read publicly, item for item, and the reasons were "pretty well spelled out."

Some of the criteria listed by North Central were a lack of community support, a deficiency of library books in one school, and the board-administrative relationship.

Brill appointed Stanley Chapas chairman of a committee who will seek the organization's help and report at the next board meeting.

Group to appeal 205 split

LOCKPORT — A citizen's committee called SOD (Save Our District) met July 2 to finalize plans that would appeal a recent decision by the County Board of School Trustees to split Lockport High School District 205.

Richard Manley, president of the Lockport local of the American Federation of Teachers, stated that his organization, which represents the majority of teachers in District 205, has endorsed a petition for review of the proposed split of the district by the Circuit Court of Joliet.

"We are shocked that such a momentous decision be made on such short notice and with such meager investigation of the facts," said Manley.

Later Manley commented, "Our teachers are concerned that education in District 205 be the best we can possibly provide for all of the children involved." He expressed fear that "jumping into a decision to split the district will not only present possible long range problems for both halves, but will also tend to give young people the idea that the fate of their schools is not important enough to warrant deep consideration and detailed analysis."

"We try to encourage youngsters to gather all the facts before making important decisions," Manley stated. He expressed the hope that the Circuit Court would delay the split in order to get a "true picture" of the consequences of such an action.

Say damage minimal in Union refinery fire

LEMONT — A fire at the Union Oil Co. refinery here Sunday was finally subdued after an hour and a half battle by three neighboring fire departments and the refinery's own fire fighting force.

Plant officials describe the damage as minimal but have not yet reduced it to figures.

Lemont firemen received a call at 5:05 a.m. that there had been an explosion and there was now a fire blazing at the "No. 1 Cat. Refiner" — to use plant terminology — and help was needed. The refinery has all the equipment for fighting fires, including a centralized pumping set up for the hydrants, but at that hour manpower was needed.

Thirty-seven volunteer firemen from Lemont and Lockport — 34 from Lemont — fought the blaze with refinery people with the Romeoville departments standing by with a pumper and crew.

The fire itself was confined to a space approximately 50 feet square, according to Lemont's Assistant Chief Edward Murawski, but the heat was so intense that it was impossible to get near the flames until surrounding metal was cooled. A refinery worker, clad in a fire proof suit, reached the main oil valve and closed it, ending the fire.

Three refinery people suffered minor burns. They were given first aid at the plant.

Crows may find town life exciting

by Glenn Logan

FRANKFORT — South Oak St. could have become the most hazardous thoroughfare in Frankfort had the village board given approval to the suggestion of Trustee Howard Osmus that residents in that area be permitted to take arms against the crows. Oak Street probably could have taken its place with the lethal streets of historic Kansas cow towns or early Tombstone.

The mere thought of a group of armed householders sashaying about the neighborhood with weapons at the ready, caused Village Attorney August Santoro to shudder.

No hunting season passes without the report of incidents where a hunter mistook a cow or pig for a pheasant or perhaps a rabbit, and there's no telling what someone might bag loosing shotgun salvos in a residential area.

Trustee Osmus said that apparently a number of crows have invaded the village and their caw-cawing disturbs the peace and quiet.

A heavy kill is not expected, but the crows may find that town life can be exciting.

Annual Will County 4-H Clubfair to open doors next Tuesday in N.L.

SOUTHWEST — The annual Will County 4-H fair opens at 9 a.m. next Tuesday at Francis Field, New Lenox, and will run through Saturday forenoon.

With more than 1,400 4-H members in the county their annual show is a big one.

Francis 4-H Field will be a busy place Monday when extension officials, adult volunteers and other turn to the task of setting up the show.

A. A. Wicklein, senior extension adviser of agriculture, George Young, and Michael Ode, assistant advisers, and Bea Bagby, extension adviser of home economics, and the superintendents of various sections will prepare for the opening Tuesday.

The judging will begin at 9 a.m. The public will be barred from the food and the 4-H Club activity exhibits until the judges have completed their tasks.

But the poultry and rabbit exhibits and the swine judging may be viewed, beginning at 9 a.m. The sheep judging will begin at 12:30 Tuesday afternoon, and at 2 p.m. there will be demonstrations of flower arranging in the Exhibition Hall.

On Wednesday, there will be food demonstrations will start at 9:30 a.m. and at 10 a.m. dairy cattle judging will begin.

There is a multitude of exhibits, demonstrations, and projects, including bicycling, baby sitting, electricity, entomology, flower gardening, forestry, gardening, (indoor and outdoor), geology, gun safety, home grounds improvement, party planning, photography, reading, small engines, soil and water conservation, wildlife conservation, wood-working, room improvement, 5-year-room plan, furniture refinishing and other activities.

On July 14 there was judging of all 4-H clothing projects, and next Thursday, beginning at 8:30 a.m. in the Exhibition Hall, the final selection for projects eligible for showing at the Illinois State Fair will begin.

The 4-H dress revue is slated for noon on July 23, and at 7:30 that evening various 4-H groups will speak, sing and put on skits and plays.

Friday will be clean-up day, to put the grounds in order but that evening at 6:30 there will be the dog show.

The 4-H horse show is scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday.

There is no admission charge for the 4-H fair and in the course of the week several thousand visitors are expected.

4-H Club

ORLAND PARK — More than 700 4-H'ers in South Cook County are busy sewing up seams, hammering the last nail and grooming their animals in preparation for their annual 4-H fair set for Friday and Saturday of this week at Francis 4-H Field, New Lenox.

These boys and girls will be exhibiting their 4-H projects and competing for ribbons, trophies and premium money, as well as the chance to be chosen as exhibitors at the Illinois State Fair.

Among the feature events will be the dog show at 2 p.m. Friday, the dress revue at 7:30 Friday night, and the crowning of the king and queen of the fair at 8 o'clock.

Livestock judging will take up the morning hours on Saturday and there will be a horse show at 1 p.m.

4 departments battle barn fire near Mokena

MOKENA — Fifty-three firemen from four volunteer departments battled a stubborn barn blaze four and a half hours Saturday morning and Mokena firemen had to return at noon hour when it re-kindled.

The fire was on what was formerly a farm yard on the west side of U.S. 45, about two blocks south of 191st St., east of Mokena. Arson is suspected, investigators said.

The blaze is believed to have started in an old crib. No estimate had been made of the loss as of Monday morning.

When the subdividers were building Arbury Hills they used the farm yard and buildings for storage of materials and building equipment. A house there was destroyed by fire several years ago.

There were 12 trucks at the scene from the Mokena, Frankfort, Orland Park and New Lenox departments.

The alarm came in about 2:25 Saturday morning and the last crew from Mokena stayed until 7 a.m.

Sometime after 3 a.m. Fred Rauch Jr., driving the Mokena rescue truck, was returning to the scene of the fire coming back to the station for a piece of equipment. Something crashed from the north side of Front St., and he swerved to the right striking two parked cars and a truck, causing damage to all four vehicles. The truck and one of the cars belong to Fred Weber.

The other parked car is the property of Larry Sorensen. Sorensen and Weber occupy apartments at 1037 Front. A fender on the rescue unit had to be cut away so the wheels could be turned.

LEMONT — Registration for Pop - Warner football will be from 10:30 to 1 p.m. July 18 and 25 at the Lemont Teen Club.

Pets hit of parade

The Pet parade stepped off on schedule Sunday to climax the weekend's festivities. The parade included pets dressed in their finery, decorated bicycles, tricycles and wagons, floats concerning pets and children dressed in costumes.

The parade was divided into seven different categories — Best of Show which went to Corky Blesch for her papier mache model of Flipper going through his hoop, most original prize to Kirk Bumber for his costume, the funniest category went to Cheryl Bernth and her dressed up basset hound named Harvey.

In the pets division, first place was given to Tim Shroyer, second Becky Wohead and third went to John Burke.

Next were the decorated bicycles with first place going to Vicki Kluga for her bicycle and just married sign on the back. Second and third going to Carri Lagetta and Pam Kazich.

Next were the costumes and the winners being Tammy Smith 1st, Tom Smith 2nd, and Diana Wilson 3rd. The winners of the decorated trikes were the twins Mike and Rich Pociask.

First place in the floats and wagons division went to Jim Donahue and his toy car pulling a boat and fishing poles. Second went to Jane Zolecki and third went to Rene Fischer.

Left: His name is Harvey and he won the funniest award in the pet parade. Above: My Friend Flipper took the Best in Show category in the pet parade. Below: This was only one of the many rides in the carnival that the youth from the Lemont area enjoyed thanks to the Lemont Teen Club which sponsored the Carnival. The Teen Club also donated money to buy the prizes for the winners in the pet parade.

Frankfort zoning board to discuss new measure

FRANKFORT — A new zoning measure and some proposed revisions of the sections covering industrial uses will be discussed by the village zoning board of appeals at its regular meeting tonight.

A regular public hearing on the two sections will be held at the Aug. 19 meeting.

Trustee Allan Mager, building committee chairman, who attended a plan commission meeting where the zoning ordinances were introduced, will review the proposals with the zoning board at its meeting tonight.

The new ordinance proposed is for special uses and includes regulations covering planned unit development. In a planned unit development the developer must present complete plans showing the tract layout, the placement of structures, a description of their materials and construction, and the layout of the streets and sidewalks. Only one zoning variance is required for the entire area.

Other zoning changes proposed by the planners will be acted on at subsequent meetings.

A motion by Village Attorney August Santoro would draft an ordinance revising building permit fees for commercial and industrial buildings. Present fees are too low, it was agreed. The new fees are expected to follow those adopted by the county.

The board also will study possible changes in its fence ordinance. The present measure limits fences to a height of five feet. Santoro explained that fence heights are limited to prevent them from cutting off light and air for neighboring property. However, he did not see how an ornamental wire fence along a property line could cut off light or air regardless of its height. Neither can he see why a fence could not be built around a swimming pool or patio under the present ordinance if inside the side yard set-back lines.

The trustees adopted the annual tax levy ordinance for the village. The levy is $134,675. The remainder of the appropriations provided for, $202,204 would come from sources other than real and personal property taxes.

Mobil announces 3 appointments

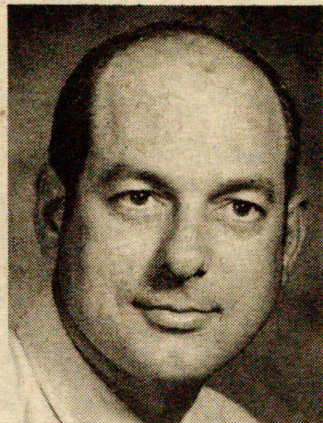

FRANKFORT — Ray Wohlfert, plant manager of Mobil Chemical Co., established in the fall of 1969 for the production of polystyrene trays for packaging meat and produce, has announced three staff appointments.

George W. Farmer, 114th Avenue and Francis Road, Mokena, has been named quality control supervisor. He has been employed by Mobil since Jan. 30, 1958, in various supervisory capacities.

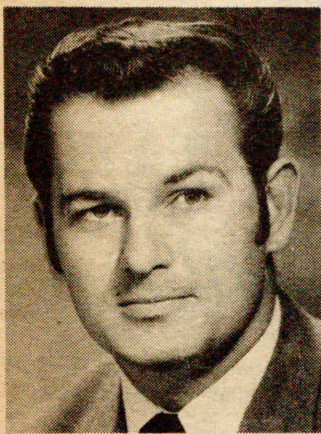

Louis B. Roy, 120 Oak St., Frankfort, has been named plant engineer. He has been with Mobil since October, 1966, and transferred here in 1969. Prior to assignment as plant engineer Roy was a member of the engineering staff at Frankfort.

Gerald R. Stapleton, 111 Sunset, Joliet, recently joined Mobil as a process engineer.

Congressional 'junkets' cost $591,550 in 1969

By Congressional Quarterly

Washington — Congressional trips abroad — better known as "junkets" to American taxpayers who foot the bills — cost more than half a million dollars in 1969.

But global travel by members of Congress and their staffs at government expense was lower during 1969 than any year beginning 1965, when Congressional Quarterly began compiling the travel records.

This five-year low probably was the result of the lengthy period Congress was in session last year. The 1969 session was the longest since 1963 and the sixth longest in history.

A substantial increase in the number of privately sponsored trips also may have contributed to the lower 1969 total.

According to the Congressional Quarterly study and poll, 209 members of Congress — 53 Senators and 156 Representatives — traveled abroad at government expense in 1969. They made a total of 296 trips.

Cost of the travel, as reported by Congressional committees, was $591,550. Actual cost to taxpayers was probably more, but some expenses are not given a specific accounting by Members of Congress.

The Members themselves spent at least $297,895 of that amount and the rest was accounted for by staff aides, consultants and miscellaneous expenditures of delegations to international conferences.

In 1968, at least 217 Members took 318 trips abroad at taxpayers' expense; in 1967, 206 Members took 306 trips; and in 1966, 243 Members made 337 foreign trips, up from 233 Members and 310 trips in 1965.

Some Members of Congress visit foreign countries at the request of the President, and, in addition to the Government-paid junkets, there are trips made at the expense of private groups, other governments and the Member's own expense.

While 39 percent of the Members of Congress took foreign trips at Government expense in 1969, an additional 13 percent (71 Members) made 153 trips financed personally or by private groups.

Excursions made by legislators — ostensibly to obtain on-site information about national or international issues — and paid out of public funds are commonly termed "junkets." Usually the trips are taken to study specific matters related to pending legislation.

As long as Members of Congress have been taking trips abroad at Government expense, there have been arguments between those who contend that education gained through world travel is good for American lawmakers and those who criticize junkets as a waste of time and taxpayers' money.

A proposed trip in 1969 for members of the House Public Works Committee to investigate roads, flood control, harbors and waterways in Africa illustrated this controversy.

When a resolution for the trip's authorization came before the House last year, Rep. H.R. Gross (R Iowa), an adamant critic of junkets, asked, "Are we going to do some roadbuilding in Egypt, Greece, Spain, Italy...and England, which are also points of call for these junketeers?"

Defending the resolution, Rep. B.F. Sisk (D Calif.) said, "I am certain in this case, the Public Works Committee seriously feels that benefits can be obtained for the knowledge of the Committee." The trip was subsequently canceled.

Another criticism focuses on trips that are taken when important bills are pending. However, most trips are timed to coincide with Congressional recesses.

According to Sen. William B. Spong (D Va.), he missed less than three per cent of all roll-call votes in 1969, despite trips to Belgium, Israel, Lebanon, Jordan, Egypt and Canada. The trips all were taken during recesses.

Most of the traveling legislators visited more than one country while abroad, and, as in past years, Western Europe drew the largest number. But for the first time in several years, trips to Vietnam and the Far East dropped far behind trips to Western Europe.

At least 175 Congressmen reported traveling to Europe at Government or non-Government expense, while 90 reported visits to the Far East and 24 of those traveled to Vietnam.

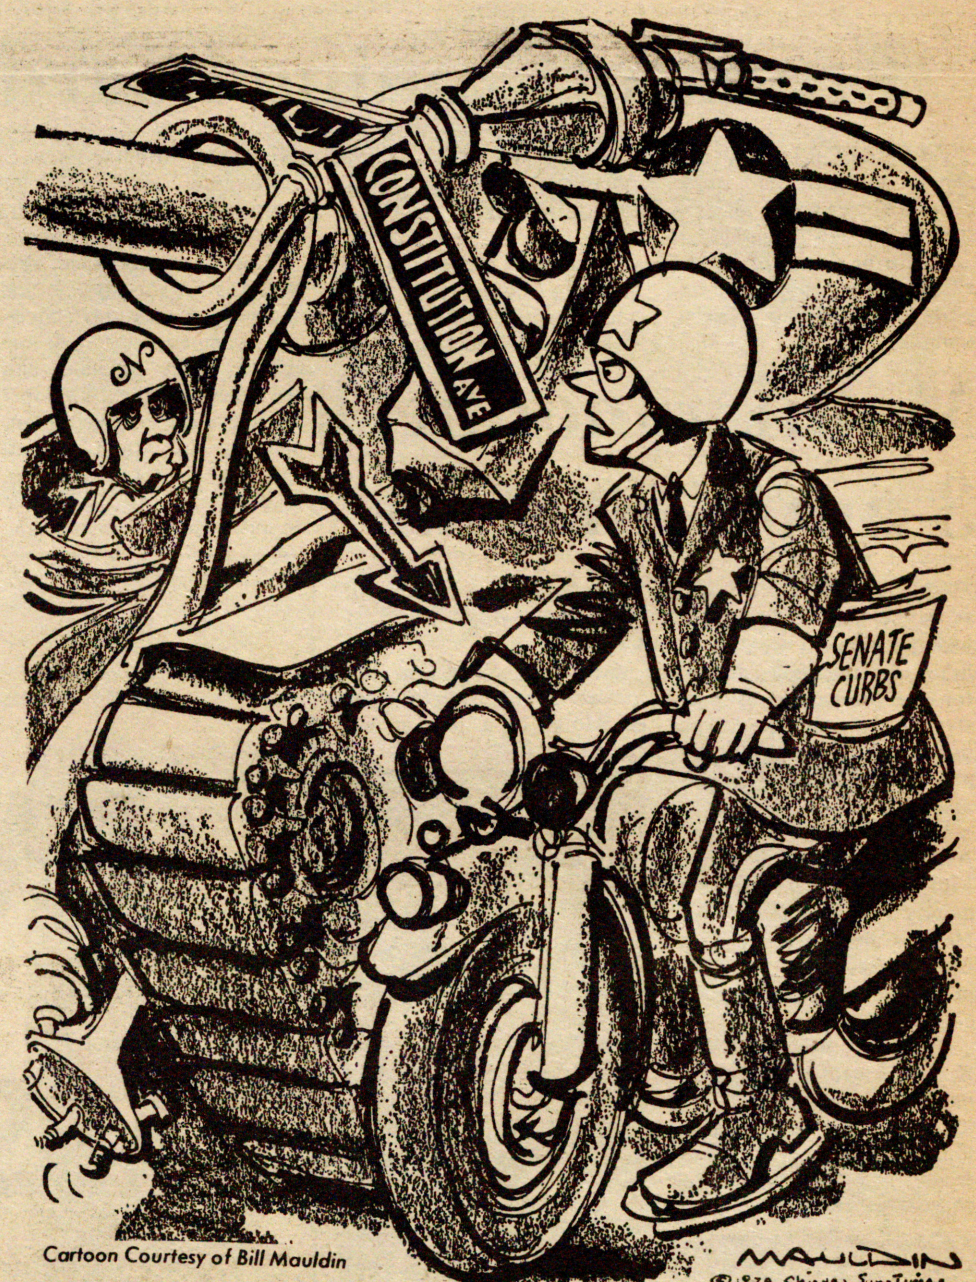

The first major Government-paid trip in 1969 was an eight-day visit by 24 Representatives to the National Assembly of the Republic of Korea, a trip that cost $56,187, including Defense Department transportation costs for the group of $46,385.

In May, 11 members of the House Education and Labor Committee's subcommittee on labor traveled to the United Kingdom to study coal mine safety legislation in relation to the then-proposed U.S. Coal Mine Health and Safety Act.

Sixteen Representatives attended the International Paris Air Show in June, a trip sponsored by the Departments of Defense and State, and the subject of controversy in 1969. Originally, 39 Members of the House, 20 of the aides, and 10 wives were scheduled to take the trip.

As in past years, Members traveled to areas of international conflict. In addition to Vietnam, the Middle East drew 21 Members in 1969.

"Pull Over" District 205 needs help from North Central Lockport may have several summer visitors, but it doesn't seem likely that a Task Force from the North Central Association will be among them.

The District 205 school board's last communication with Dr. Lowell B. Fisher, chairman of the accrediting group, revealed the task force will not accept the school's invitation if the meeting between the two groups is before the public.

Originally a group of teachers wrote the organization, requesting an evaluation of the district. Included in Dr. Fisher's reply to the teachers was a statement that obvious violations concern the apparent lack of confidence and support of the schools by the citizens of the school district.

The board of education has violated the criterion dealing with an adequate program of studies to meet the needs of the students. They also have violated a most basic criterion which deals with board of education, superintendent and faculty relationship and areas of responsibility.

This prompted a letter from the board to Dr. Fisher, requesting a task force. Oddly enough, at the time, the board seemed less concerned with criteria violations than with the source of Dr. Fisher's information.

Since that time, several letters and communications have gone back and forth. North Central requested a dinner meeting with the board.

The board refused this suggestion, and said they wanted a public meeting. North Central does not want a public meeting, based on the idea that it would become an emotional display and accomplish nothing.

In fairness to the board, they seem anxious to discuss the district's shortcomings or lack of them before the public, so that it will be clear they are not hiding anything from the public and more importantly, the voters.

However, in this instance, it seems very little would be accomplished by a public meeting other than Dr. Fisher's premonition of another public shouting match, which we certainly have seen enough of in this district.

We would agree with Dr. Fisher, a sup-a meeting between the board and the task force. Obviously, the district is in need of help. Whatever decisions come from such a meeting will surely be made public.

The main thing is help, — not today, not tomorrow, but yesterday. The president of the board has appointed a committee to work out arrangements with North Central.

We wish them every success.

Beaconridge arson can be stopped

Several cases of automobile arson in the Beaconridge area are most unfortunate, but they can be stopped if residents will cooperate.

Sgr. Ray Waliczek of the Will County Police has said that in every case of arson, owners of the damaged cars left doors unlocked and windows rolled down. The obvious answer then is for residents to keep their car doors locked.

The solution goes further. Waliczek also said that in none of the cases has anyone reported seeing the arsonists or suspected persons in the area. The police must have cooperation of the residents if such incidents are to be controlled. We suggest residents make special effort to watch Beaconridge parking lots and report any information to authorities.

If, as Waliczek suggests, the arson is some childish reaction to the proposed annexation of Beaconridge into Bolingbrook these incidents must be stopped - not only to avoid costly damage to personal property, but to discourage what could become a rampant use of illegal scare tactics for political means.

4 Lemont students win scholarships

LEMONT — Four Lemont students have been awarded various scholarships, Donald Mueggenborg, director of guidance of Lemont High School, has announced.

Miss Barbara Kendzora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kendzora, 214 Short St., Lemont, was awarded a Moffett Scholarship by the Whitehall Foundation. Miss Kendzora plans to attend Illinois State University in Normal. In high school, she was active in GAA and National Honor Society.

The Lemont High School Booster Club's annual scholarships went to Miss Janet Laskowski and Pierce Spencer for citizenship and scholarship.

Miss Laskowski, daughter of Mrs. Edmund Laskowski, 308 Stephen St., Lemont, plans to attend Blackburn College in Carlinville.

Pierce, son of Mrs. Pierce Spencer, 407 Illinois St., Lemont, will attend Greenville College, Greenville. He participated in football, basketball and golf in high school.

Miss Lauren Lind was named winner of the Lemont Methodist Men's Club scholarship based on participation in church activities, Christian character and scholarship.

Miss Lind, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lind, 10 Logan St., Lemont, was a high school cheerleader, member of the National Honor Society and active in the Girls' Athletic Assn. She plans to attend Eastern Illinois University and become a teacher.

Final testing date set for Lockport West

LOCKPORT — Friday, July 24, has been set as the last date for registering and testing students moving into the Lockport West High School area in the late summer.

All students who have moved into the district during the summer or otherwise missed registration at Richland, Monge, Westview, St. Ambrose, and St. Andrews elementary school last February, should report to the guidance office at Lockport West High School shortly before 8 a.m.

Initial registration will last approximately one hour and testing two additional hours (from 8 until 11 a.m.).

The registration of any student will not be completed until transcripts from former schools have been received and the results of this testing have been reviewed. Then, those electing courses in agreement with their previous school record and testing results will be assigned to the courses they selected. Others will be contacted for further consultation regarding their choice of high school subjects.

One additional requirement is made by the state of Illinois for every student entering a new high school. This is proof of a current medical examination and dental check-up before starting the ninth grade. Tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade students transferring to Lockport West from another high school, who had completed this requirement at the other school, should request that their medical examination form be sent to

In order to obtain a schedule of classes for next year, these entering students must turn in their medical and dental examination forms. These may be completed on a form provided by the high school and given to all new students as they register. This form can be turned in to the high school on the day students pick up their schedule and purchase their textbooks.

For further information, or to have any questions concerning the scheduling of classes answered, phone Lockport West High School, Guidance Office: 838-4020.

Letters

Editor's Note: The following is a letter to Robert Gorski, Chamber of Commerce president, concerning flower baskets in downtown Lemont. It was given to this office by Peter Kluge, Chamber treasurer.

Dear Mr. Gorski:

Just a few words to let the Lemont Chamber of Commerce know how proud we fathers are, to know that the Lemont Chamber of Commerce has not forgotten us fathers on Fathers Day.

By beautifying the downtown area of Lemont with such beautiful baskets.

A Million Thanks from all the Fathers from Hearthside Realty.

To the Editor:

WHY THE RUSTY WATER?

For the past few weeks some people have commented on the rusty Water Conditions.

The cause of this condition is due in part to a survey being conducted by Members of the Lemont Fire Department who volunteered their time to determine the gallage flow and condition of the Fire Hydrants for the Village of Lemont. This survey is being conducted for better fire protection for the Village and may lead to a lower insurance rate for the Village.

This survey will be completed in the very near future.

Testing of Fire Hydrants have been conducted in connection with our regular drill and training on Monday evenings. But due to the time element testing will be conducted on Monday evenings and Weekday afternoons (except Monday) when personnel and time is available for this function.

Please bear with us for a few more weeks.

This survey is being conducted through the far sightedness of Village Trustee Harry Mentch.

I thank you.

George Wolfe:

"I plant every young tree I find."

by Marge Ratcliffe

LOCKPORT — George Wolfe is a lifelong Lockport resident. He is also a member of the Lockport City Council, an alderman representing the 4th Ward. He is an enthusiastic gardener, wants to learn to play the bugle and is not crazy about mustaches.

Several months ago, Wolfe wrote to Senator Charles Percy and requested a flag which had flown over the nation's capitol. After it's arrival, he erected a flagpole in his front yard, timed to coincide with his son's return from military service and the Fourth of July. That's where the bugle comes in. He would like to learn to play taps.

His only son, George, an Air Force veteran, recently returned after "three years, seven months and 17 days of service, the last year spent in Alaska. He has a mustache. At the time of our conversation, he was on his way to see "Hair." His father was less than enthusiastic.

Wolfe and his wife, Ursula, their son and daughter Carol, a teacher at Laraway School, live in Lockport's "south end" and visiting with them is almost like being in the country. Wolfe has a huge, meticulously kept lawn and an impressive garden. Neat rows of onions, beans, and tomatoes reflect a great deal of care.

There is also a fenced enclosure, which Wolfe refers to as "the Inner Sanctum" — filled with trees. "Everytime I see a young tree, I bring it in here and plant it," Wolfe says.

Deep in the middle of the thicket is a picnic table. "On a hot Saturday afternoon, this is a fine place to be." It really is a miniature forest, complete with birds and rustling breezes.

His wife has a brightly colored table with an umbrella and comfortable chairs on the patio, but Wolfe prefers to sit at his own table, under the trees. He cannot understand why anybody would want to sit under an umbrella when a tree is available.

He is deeply concerned about Lockport, and feels the city needs more industry. He does not favor further expansion, except in industrial building. "We're getting too big," he said reflectively.

On the subject of hair, both on heads and theater stages, and sprouting on upper lips, Wolfe commented, "You eat to please yourself, and dress to please others." He favors clean-shaven faces, neatly trimmed hair, and clothes that do not resemble Army surplus.

As for "Hair," as in tribal rock, he said he would reserve comment until he had heard a report from his son.

He worries that today's young people "don't care" about much of anything.

He discussed experience, "a dear and expensive thing" but admitted many young people are not hired because they have no experience, and obviously will not have any unless they start somewhere.

Wolfe has been an employee of Texaco for 34 years. His son will start at the plant Monday. As his son drove away, Wolfe said softly, "There he goes... you never know if they're coming back." There is a peace symbol on the back of his son's car.

2,500-home development opens in Bolingbrook

A planned 2,500-home development has recently opened in Bolingbrook showing five model homes priced from $27,900 to $36,000.

The new community, Winston Woods, which will cost $75,000, is located on a 500-acre tract on Ill. Highway 53, eight miles south of the East-West Tollway and one mile north of Route 66.

The first phase of the project will be 1,250 homes. The same number of townhouse units will be opened early this fall, and a clubhouse social and recreational center also are planned.

Model homes are at 500 North Falmore Lane and are open daily from 10 a.m. until dark.

"We believe the natural wooded sites in Winston Woods coupled with the established schools, shopping and numerous recreational facilities available to this community will attract young and growing families who demand more than just a well-built, comfortable house," says Joshua A. Muss, president of Winston Development Co.

Model homes include the Arlington, a four-bedroom, two-bath midlevel; the Brookwood, a three-bedroom ranch with two baths; the Claridge, a 2½-bath split-level; the Dorset, a two-story colonial, and the Elmwood, a midlevel with three baths.

The homes all feature family rooms with one wall paneled and attached two-car garages.

Kitchens are equipped with electric appliances — double oven and range, built-in dishwasher, disposal unit, exhaust system and stainless steel sinks. Furniture finish cabinets are available.

Ceramic floor and wall tile in baths is a standard feature as is carpeting in a choice of colors and patterns.

Air conditioning and family room fireplace are optional.

Twile Thomas learns to play taps

His only son, George, an Air Force veteran, recently returned after "three years, seven months and 17 days of service, the last year spent in Alaska. He has a mustache. At the time of our conversation, he was on his way to see "Hair." His father was less than enthusiastic.

The bride's father wearing a bouquet of white detachable corsage. Attending the wedding of Lansing carried a bouquet of white sweethearts. The bride's attendant was Fred Anderson, Hammond, Ind.

Immediately after the ceremony, a dinner at Oliver's Pub, Hammond, Ind., honored the couple. The one-tier wedding cake was decorated with white and mint sugar bells and roses.

The bride's mother wore a mint green ensemble with navy blue accessories, and the groom's mother chose a mint green embroidered ensemble with beige accessories.

The couple will reside in Indiana while Hoffmann works toward a masters' degree in engineering at Purdue University.

Sandra Nelson

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nelson, Mokena, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, to Bruce Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershall Patterson, Frankfort. The couple will be married at 3 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 8, in St. Mary's Church, Mokena. The reception will be at 6 p.m. at the Harwood American Legion Hall in Joliet.

Surprise party honors Fitzer 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzer, 115 Hickory St., New Lenox, were honored July 1 with a surprise party celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

Relatives from Kentucky, Blue Island, Mokena and New Lenox and the Rev. and Mrs. LaVern Smith of Frankfort attended.

Fitzer and the former Leona Hingspeter were married June 30, 1920, by the Rev.

Gustav Lambrecht, pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical Church of Frankfort. They have two sons, Virgil of New Lenox and Darwin of Route 5, Joliet, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Michael Toppins of Appleton, Wisc., Cindy and Steven Fitzer of Joliet.

The Fitzers wish to thank everyone for the cards, flowers and gifts.

Women candidates increase

By Alan Ehrenhalt
Congressional quarterly

Washington — The next Congress is likely to have more female members than any other in the past 10 years.

Besides the 11 women serving now, five others are given good chances to win election over male opponents this fall.

But despite the rising anger of young females demanding equal rights in American society, the 1970 crop of women in politics is an unmilitant crew. Of the five challengers, only one — Bella Abzug of New York — has close ties to the aggressive feminist groups that have sprung up in the past few years.

The other four — Ella T. Grasso of Connecticut, Louise Day Hicks of Massachusetts, Phyllis Schlafly of Illinois and Ann P. Uccello of Connecticut — reflect more traditional politics.

Perhaps the most colorful of the lady candidates is Mrs. Hicks, former chairman of the Boston School Committee. Mrs. Hicks, a critic of open housing and a backer of the neighborhood school system, ran for mayor of Boston in 1967 on the slogan, "You know where I stand."

When the ballots were counted, she stood 12,439 votes behind Kevin H. White, even though polls had shown her to be leading.

But Mrs. Hicks continued her career and won a place on the Boston City Council in 1969. This year she is seeking the House seat being vacated by Democratic Speaker John W. McCormack, who is retiring at age 78. Mrs. Hicks is a Democrat.

The picture is cloudy because nearly a dozen candidates are expected to seek the Democratic nomination. But Mrs. Hicks' familiarity with Boston voters seems to make her an early favorite.

Mrs. Grasso, Connecticut's Democratic Secretary of State, is favored to win her battle for the House seat being vacated by Republican Thomas J. Meskill. She was widely mentioned earlier this year as a possible candidate for the Senate.

Not a crusader for women's liberation, Mrs. Grasso says her sex has been neither an advantage nor a disadvantage to her in politics.

Another Connecticut women in a close race for Congress is Miss Uccello, the Republican mayor of Hartford. She is a candidate to replace Rep. Emilio Q. Daddario, a Democrat, who is running for governor. The district has been Democratic in the past and Miss Uccello has an uphill fight, but she's thought to have a reasonable change of pulling it off. Miss Uccello says Vice President Spiro T. Agnew urged her to make the race.

By far the most conservative of the five women is Phyllis P. Schlafly, an author who first became prominent in 1964 with her Goldwater campaign tract, "A Choice Not an Echo." She lost in a noisy and bitter campaign for President of the National Federation of Republican Women in 1966.

"I don't believe in women's rights," says Mrs. Schlafly. "I believe in chivalry."

Mrs. Schlafly is challenging incumbent Rep. George E. Shipley, a Democrat who has survived six tough Republican challenges since he was first elected in 1958. National conservative organizations are expected to support the Schlafly campaign, and the race is expected to be close.

The one candidate who not only believes in women's rights but campaigns on the issue of Mrs. Abzug, a Democrat who won an upset victory over veteran House Member Leonard Farbstein in the party's June primary.

Mrs. Abzug, a lawyer, is a founder of the Women Strike for Peace organization. She formerly served as a special assistant on consumer affairs to New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay.

"A woman's place is in the House," Mrs. Abzug said during the primary campaign. "It's about time women exercised their power. Men seem to work for destruction."

The district, located on Manhattan's Lower East Side, is heavily Democratic. Mrs. Abzug is expected to win by a comfortable margin in November.

If Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Grasso, Miss Uccello, Mrs. Schlafly and Mrs. Abzug are all elected, and all 10 female Representatives are re-elected, there will be at least 14 women in the House next January. All the incumbents are heavy favorites to win.

The one woman Senator, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, is not up for election this year and thus is guaranteed a seat in the next Congress.

In addition to the five major challengers, there are several women running for Congress this year who are conducting strong campaigns but are regarded as underdogs. These include Senate candidate Lenore Romney of Michigan and House candidates Dorothy S. McDiarmid of Virginia, Kathleen Z. Williams of Indiana, Marian McQuade of West Virginia, Janet Roberts Jennings of Illinois and Myrlie B. Evers of California.

Mrs. Romney is the wife of Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney. She faces a difficult task in campaigning against Democratic Michigan Sen. Philip A. Hart.

Mrs. Evers is the widow of murdered Mississippi civil rights leader Medgar Evers. She and Mrs. Jennings are the only black women running for Congress this year. Neither is given much chance to win.

Ask Wilma Stash

by Marge Ratcliffe

LOCKPORT — The old theory, "when you want to get something done, ask the busiest person you know," has been practiced with great success by many people. In Lockport, there's a slight variation on the theme. "Ask Wilma Stash."

Wilma is a multi-talented, vivacious brunette, with a real flair for creative projects. She and her husband, John, and their four daughters live on Eighth Street in the Kelvin Grove area.

The day of our interview, she and her daughter Karen, a student at Lockport East High School, had just completed construction on a loom; so Karen could make a beaded belt. It was a long narrow wooden tray, with half a comb nailed to each end, neatly threaded, and effective. Imagination in equipment as well as the finished product seems to be the key to Wilma's success.

Her basement "work-room" is filled with projects which include bridesmaid's dresses, a newly designed costume for waitresses at the Golden Carriage Lounge, several hand-wired pearl crowns which will adorn July brides' veils, tiny exquisite pictures painted on brown velvet, and on the practical side — a sewing machine and an ironing board.

"I like a challenge," she said. Then she laughed and added, "I'm always willing to help, as long as it's my way." Her way seems to work just fine.

Many of her ideas have been sold to McCall's for their special Christmas issues, and her Three Wise Men are becoming rather famous.

Made from three "Ken" dolls, they are beautifully robed and decorated, and won first place at the Illinois Federation of Woman's Club's district contest. Five sets have been sold to prominent department stores for display purposes.

She once organized a knitting club, but smiled and said, "They're all too smart now...they don't need me anymore." Wilma also does needlepoint, and paints well. And — she makes furniture.

"John was a little upset when I walked in with the pieces, bent and broken, of five floor lamps. But these," Wilma waved a hand at three beautiful lamps, "came out of that box." She went on to explain she decided what should go where, and her husband put it all together. She admits that she is not an electrician. (New worlds to conquer.)

She used the left over parts for a candlestick, "stuck together, my way," and in response to an obvious question, "no, I bought the candle."

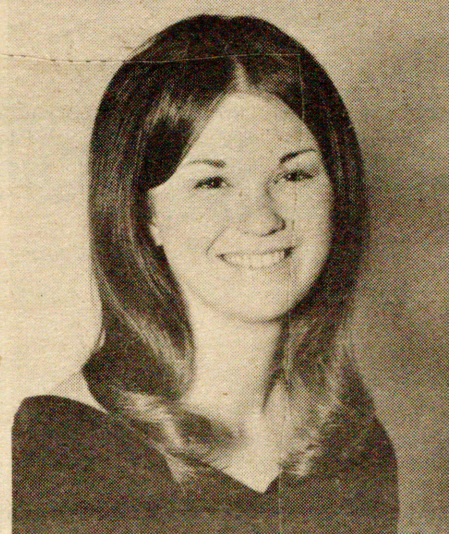

Wilma doesn't spend all her time in the basement. She is currently a member of the Lockport Woman's Club executive board, and is a regular observer at high school board meetings. She has also been a steady worker in political campaigns and school referenda.

In case you're worried about John and the girls, coming home to boxes of broken lamps, and discovering the lady of the house sawing combs in half, Wilma is also an excellent cook. Everybody around there looks pretty healthy.

Sound too good to be true? There is consolation in the fact that she really doesn't know how to wire things (yet) and can't make candles ... and probably burns things once in awhile. And talks on the telephone alot. And overbids at bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Hahn, 204 E. Fifth Street, Lockport, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lorene, to Charles H. Elliot II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Elliot Sr., 2728 Lockport Road, Lockport. The wedding will be at 2 p.m. August 1. The reception will be at D'Amico's 214 in Joliet. Miss Hahn is a graduate of Lockport Central High School and is employed by the First National Bank of Lockport. Elliot is also a Lockport Central graduate and is employed by Tri-City Electric Company.

MISS HELEN M. KEHLENBACH and Thomas J. Hogan were married June 20 at a 5 p.m. mass in St. Dennis Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hogan of Oak Lawn. The maid of honor was Judy Kusnik. Bridesmaids were Becky Walsh, Judy Scholten, Terri Hogan and Mrs. Andrew Hanik. Marcia Murray, the bride's niece, was the flowergirl. Michael Hogan, brother of the groom was best man and ushers were Joseph Kehlenbach, Gerald Fry, Michael Rappa and Andrew Hanik. The reception was at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall. After a trip to St. Louis and Springfield, the newlyweds are residing in Lockport.

Lockport receives ISPERN

LOCKPORT — Lockport today became one of the first law enforcement agencies in Illinois to receive mobile radio units which will link it to a state-wide emergency communications network, according to Police Chief Robert Gait.

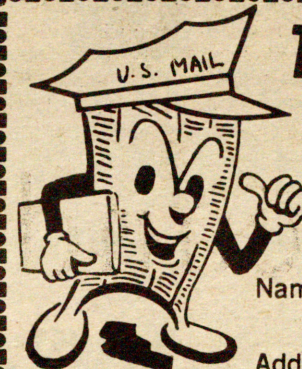

Gait said his agency has received three units as a part of the Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network (ISPERN), the first police car-to-car communications systems of its kind in the nation. The ISPERN frequency will enable the Lockport Police to communicate with municipal, county and state law enforcement agencies immediately in emergency situations, he said.

The ISPERN units were furnished at no cost by the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement Commission. The City of Lockport is responsible only for the cost of installation and any equipment needed to monitor the network frequency at police headquarters.

The new radios, designed by the General Electric Corporation, are easily distinguished by their bright red microphones. By the end of 1970, the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement expects these units to be installed in every police vehicle in the state.

The crowds packed the fairways for the Amateur Public Links Championship last week at Lemont's Cog-Hill Golf Course. The amateurs were pitted against one of the most difficult courses in the state, number four course - Dub's Dread at Cog Hill.

Going into the final round on Saturday Bob Risch from Gardena, Calif. was leading by five strokes over Mike Zimmerman from Kettering, Ohio. Bob was shaky at first and triple bogeyed the fifth hole and bogeyed the eighth hole.

With only a one stroke lead he birdied the tenth and eleventh holes to regain some of the lead he had lost.

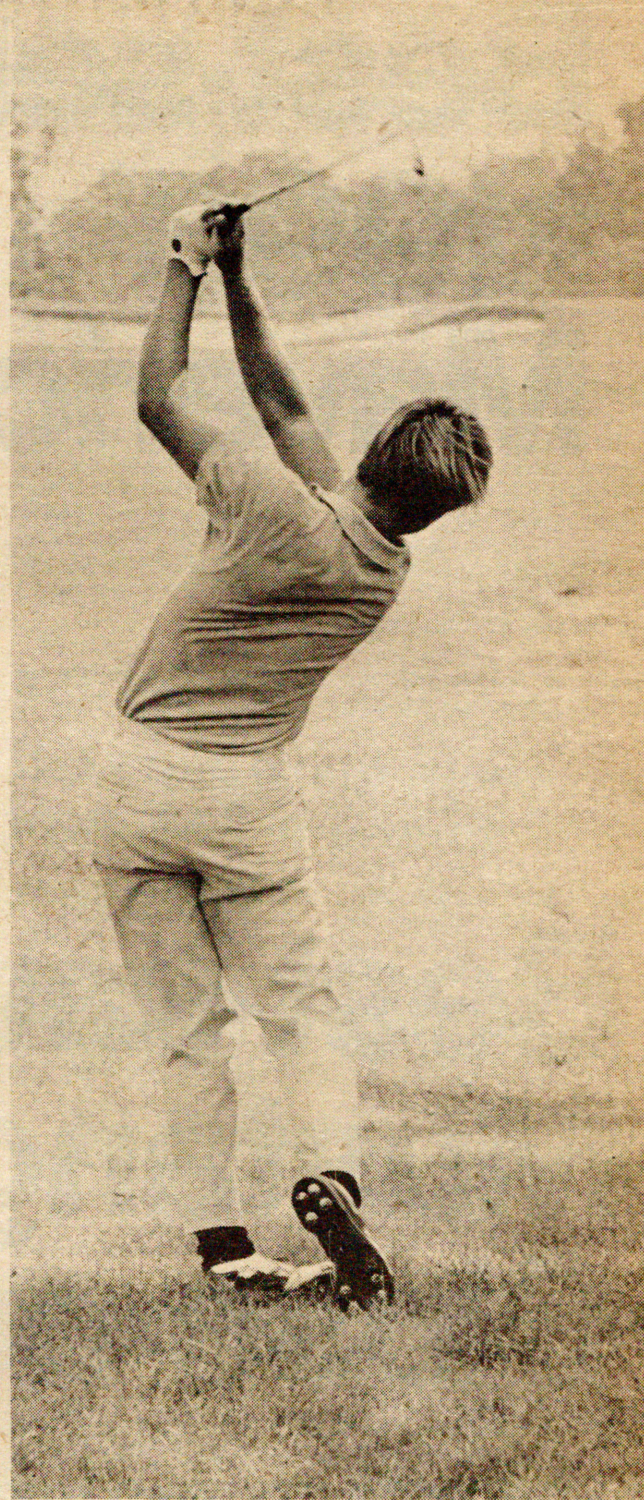

He then won the tournament by three strokes over Mike Zimmerman's 296.

He won the tournament by three strokes, and a total of 293, over Mike Zimmerman's 296.

But the leaders weren't the only ones playing golf. Ted Meier of Joliet put on a big move in the final round after shooting a 69, 73, 85, in three rounds. He ended with a 78 and a total of 303 to help his Chicago-land team win the Amateur Team Championship. Another local man, Steve Leanard of Downers Grove ended with a total of 339.

After the tournament Joe Jemsek was presented a plaque by the players in the tournament to show their appreciation for the use of the golf course at Cog-Hill.

50-mile hike is reduced to 12 for Boy Scouts

Katharine Heisner

Telephone 469-5187

Pollution and heat reduced a 50-mile hike to a 12-mile hike for Boy Scouts of troop 270. With 35 to 55-pound packs, 14 boys and their scoutmaster, Paul

Frankfort

Hankowitz and assistant scoutmaster, Lee Gericke, started out July 1 along the Illinois - Michigan canal from Utica to Channahon State Park. After 12 miles and 90 degree weather, the hike was called off because what was once a beautiful hiking trail is now a polluted mess.

Boys attending were: Mike Engelhardt, Jim Englebrecht, Shane Gericke, Alan Holm, Dennis Holm, Terry Houchens, David Lorenz, Steve Melcher, Tom Novota, Edward Podobnik, Tony Roy and Mike Johnson. They are grateful to the following parents for picking them up at a moments notice: Mrs. Betty Holm, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roy, Jack Houchens, Robert Hull and Wayne Johnson.

Mrs. William Rahm Sr. returned home after being a medical patient at Silver Cross Hospital for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kim Osmus of Joliet are the proud parents of a daughter born June 9. She weighed 7 pounds, 3 ounces and will be called Shannon Leigh. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Osmus.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson and daughter, Michelle of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. are spending several weeks here with her mother, Mrs. Herbert Lambrecht and also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson Sr. in Joliet. Michelle arrived by plane a week before her parents, who came by car. She was the houseguest then of the Paul Lambrecht family.

After a vacation of several days over the holiday week-end, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watts and family have returned home. They spent a day visiting with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Cotton and family at Jonesboro, Ark., and then attended the Watts family reunion on the 4th of July. They were the houseguests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Berkley Watts at Marshall, Ark.

The Frankfort Frauleins 4-H club members met at the home of assistant leader, Miss Marie Tewes last week. Talks and demonstrations were given on food and clothing by the 10 members present. Nine members attended day camp recently held at Francis Field.

Edward Waring attended the Rural Letter Carriers State Convention at Effingham, Ill. a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller returned home recently after a ten day vacation in Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota.

After spending a four-day vacation with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Christiansen at Minneapolis, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Christiansen returned home by plane.

Sgt. Dale R. Ebert arrived back in the states on June 1, 1970, after a year at the Tuy Hoa Air Force Base in Vietnam.

Troop 12 Boy Scouts to take north Wisconsin canoe trip

Delores Anderson
 Telephone 485-2365

Boy Scouts of troop 12 will take a canoe trip at Region 7 Canoe Base at Boulder Junction in northern Wisconsin. On July 15, assistant scoutmaster, Bill Krohn and Steve Friant will leave for Wisconsin to make the final plans for the rest of the boys who will be leaving the week-end.

In order for the boys to go they must be able to swim 1 mile. They will canoe along the banks of the lakes and sleep out in tents. Seven scouts attending are: Richard Mead, Steve Friant, Mike Ryan, Richard Koller, Terry Fellers, Alan Johnson and Dennis Thatcher. Adult leaders will be scoutmaster, Richard Koller, James Ryan, Carl Friant and assistant, Bill Krohn.

Donald Janssen, New Lenox, participated in the 1970 4-H Agricultural Demonstration Festival on June 24. Don was selected as one of the top winners and will represent Will County at the Illinois State Fair in August. He demonstrated how to make a "cold frame" in which to start vegetables and flowers in the early spring.

The Cloverettes 4-H club will meet from 4 to 5:30 Wednesday with leader Mrs. John Meyer at her home 428 East 4th Ave.

The New Lenox Sportsman club will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Lions Den.

The New Lenox Township Board meeting will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in the village hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Leidich and family of Pittsburgh, Pa. have returned home after spending a week visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilmsen and family, 136 West Francis Road.

Mrs. Marion Schwarz and daughter Linda have returned home to Springfield, Mass. after spending 2 weeks here with her sister, and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Warlick and family, East Francis Road.

Miss Charlotte Bauer who will become the bride of Dennis Becker, on Aug. 15 was the guest of honor at a bridal shower, given at Fellowship hall in United Methodist Church by Mrs. Almeda Knobloch and daughter Joy, Tuesday night.

Upon her arrival at the party, Miss Bauer was presented a yellow rose corsage, and a nose gay bearing various sewing articles, that decorated the table where she opened her gifts. Games were played and prizes awarded. Duplicate prizes were given to the bride-to-be.

Refreshments were served buffet style from table decorated in keeping with a shower motif. An umbrella, sprinkling cans filled with flowers and handkerchief favors for each guest also decorated the tables. Forty guests attended.

The New Lenox Sportsman Club Auxiliary will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 15.

AEC to make survey in low-flying airplane

SOUTHWEST — A small tan and white airplane will fly low over parts of Will, Grundy, Kendall, Cook and DuPage Counties in Illinois during the next few weeks.

The twin-engine airplane flying at about 300 feet is part of a continuing national aerial survey program conducted by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). These survey flights consist of several environmental measurements some of which are used to determine normal background radiation levels.

These routine measurements help determine present levels of natural radiation which come from low-level radioactivity in surface soils and rocks. Knowing today's normal radiation will make

Members of the W.S.C.S. of the United Methodist church will meet at 1 p.m. Wednesday, July 15 in the Fellowship Hall.

Grace Episcopal church will hold its annual rummage sale July 17 and 18 in the church basement with Mrs. Goldie Yeager as chairman. Hours for the sale on Friday will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Anyone with articles to donate for the sale are asked to call Mrs. Yeager.

The Merry Maidens 4-H club will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday at the 4-H field with leader Mrs. Walter Heeg.

Julia Seeley, 216 Hickory, New Lenox, was among one of 40 selected high school students attending the Spanish division of the Midwest Music and Art Camp on the University of Kansas campus from June 21 to July 26.

it possible to compare any future variation which might result either from nuclear testing by any nation or from other sources.

The present survey will include a fly-over of the area near the Commonwealth Edison Company's Dresden Nuclear Power Station and one or two other nearby generating plants in the Commonwealth Edison system.

The survey will be conducted for the AEC by EG&G, Inc., of Las Vegas, Nevada. A special waiver of civil air regulations has been obtained from the Federal Aviation Agency to permit the low-level flights. Flights will be made in July during daylight hours and as weather conditions permit.

Mayor George Nordstrom would like the residents of Lockport to remember that the litter containers on downtown streets are for paper-type litter and not garbage-type litter. Please, asks the mayor, don't put left over sandwiches and half finished popsicles in the containers. These contributions to the litter containers may delight the flies, but are unhealthy for the population. Shape up, population.

PER INGENIVM EST PECVNIA

(in understanding, there is money)

	4½%	5%	5½%	5¾%
How to use the account	Your regular savings account, an interest paying cookie jar. You can have too much or too little in this account. Additional money should go in higher interest accounts instead.	Your Golden Savings Account. Save for the costly things you want. A nice vacation, a color TV, a new refrigerator, your big dream. Think of it as an installment plan that pays interest.	A very safe investment. Here's where you keep money you hope not to use for a long time. Money for retirement, college educations, a summer cottage.
To earn this interest	4½% is the highest legal interest a bank can pay on regular savings and still allow you to get your money at any time without losing interest.	You agree to keep your money on deposit for at least 90 days.	You agree to keep your money on deposit for a full year. (If you think you can keep it in for more than a year use the 5¾% plan.)	In order to earn 5¾%, you agree to leave your money on deposit for 2 years or more.
How to start and build your savings	Start with $10.00. You can add any amount, at any time and still earn your 4½%.	Start with $100.00. You can add any amount, at any time but each deposit must remain for 90 days to earn 5%.	These are certificates you can buy instead of deposits you make. The certificate can be purchased for as little as $100—a very low price for C.D.'s. And, you start earning interest from the time you buy it.
How is interest paid	Interest is paid monthly.	Interest is paid monthly.	Interest is paid monthly. And, interest checks can be mailed monthly, semi-annually, annually, depending on the amount of the certificates.

All interest is earned from day of deposit and is compounded continuously by computer, so it's actually somewhat higher in the long run.

A well-organized savings plan is the easiest way we know to pick up some extra money. So here's a simple, unconfused presentation of all the savings plans available at our bank. We don't think you should be kept out of a good deal just because we haven't taken the time to explain it clearly.
